Revolutions Justifiable?

By Arthur Brisbane

One fact lights up an entire landscape like a flash of lightning in the night.

Read Fenimore Cooper's description of his friends, the Redskins, so brave, so eloquent, and you almost wish you were an Indian.

Then read the plain narrative of one of the Catholic priests that went out preaching Christianity and risking their lives among savages. The description of a young warrior caught by an enemy tribe, tortured and then eaten, or another description of a mother and father compelled to look on while their child was tortured by the Indians, sheds a new light on the Indian character. You are reconciled to the elimination of the Redskins by pitiless civilization.

Similarly, in regard to Japan, there is a big difference between the poetry of Lafcadio Hearn and reality's rough prose.

One dispatch tells you that the Koreans are made into good, servile Japanese with ninety strokes of a heavy bamboo for each Korean. That is enlightening.

The Japanese Crown Prince, son of the great Mikado, now celebrates his coming of age at eighteen.

The Mikado in full regalia walks out into the Court of Honor with all the nobles bowing low.

His Majesty, cousin of the sun and moon, makes a deep bow to the holy sanctuary and sits on his throne. Out of a door comes something crawling on its hands and knees. The something is the Crown Prince crawling along on the ground to the feet of his father in accordance with ancient custom.

This sheds light, or at least it puzzles you. You ask which is the reality. Japan working at science, rivaling Western civilization, or Japan crawling on its hands and knees and torturing miserable Koreans? You make up your mind that it is a good idea to keep a big United States fleet in the Pacific.

New York City's street car trust gave a one day performance of an interesting little comedy that might be entitled, "Walk, damn you."

The street car trust has always robbed its public, its stockholders, its city. It wants more money. Its employees, organized in a brotherhood controlled by the corporation, wanted more money. The men struck, with the gestures and cries of Italian bandits in a comic opera.

The company said "We are helpless, we cannot run our cars, Help!" At the end of twenty-four hours, the object lesson having been given six million of people having walked in the rain, the strike was called off, and the collecting of nickles continued.

Salaries were raised, and the company says the increase will cost the company five millions a year. Perhaps it will. Now the legislature, which is willing enough to oblige a big corporation, will be asked to increase the street car fare from five to eight cents.

This increase will give to the street car company in cash about thirty-two million dollars a year more. Deduct from that the five millions of increased wages that the employees will get and you will find that the one day comic opera performed by the corporation and its faithful brotherhood of well trained employees was about as profitable a show as was ever staged. Five millions a year for the workers. Twenty-seven millions a year for the corporation. All good actors.

Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, gives to the powerful men of the country some advice that ought to and will not impress them. Men at the top of the heap never listen. After somebody has kicked them off the top down to the bottom they are ready to listen, but then it is too late.

Senator Gronna says that if the high cost of living does not come down there will be danger of revolution. He says: "We know of revolutions that have been justifiable."

We do, indeed; for instance, the American Revolution that established the United States and the French Revolution that established the French Republic and the Revolution of Cromwell that started government by the people in England, and the Revolution in Germany that got rid of the Hohenzollerns and the revolution in Russia that got rid of the Romanoffs, and the revolution in China producing the Republic. In fact, the revolution NOT justifiable is the ex-

Food Control Act "With Teeth" Goes Before Congress Today.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Amendments to the war time food control act, extending the measure to peace times and putting "teeth in it," as requested by Attorney General Palmer, were before the house today. The act as amended by the agriculture committee and unanimously reported late yesterday was broadened to include wearing apparel, containers of food, feed or fertilizer and fuel oil; brings retailers within the scope of its provisions and provides a maximum penalty of two years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine for profiteering. Farmers are exempted, the committee declaring there was an absence of evidence to show profiteering in their case.

Should the recommendations of the committee be adopted government officials and members of congress believe a long step forward will have been taken in the fight to lower the cost of living. Numerous other bills affecting various features of the problem are pending in both branches of congress and the high cost of living continued to hold front rank in capital discussions.

An end of profiteering in sugar was believed assured with the announcement last night that active control of prices of this commodity had been resumed by the government through an agreement between the food administration and the department of justice under which licenses will be revoked by the former when it is shown by the latter that the dealers have been profiteering. A statement in connection with the announcement said sugar should reach the consumer at 11 cents a pound.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 22.—Following the conviction of Theodore Leonard, in the Columbus Municipal Court, on the charge of having violated the Smith cold storage act, arrangements were made for keeping the other charges in abeyance until the Leonard case can be disposed of.

It will be carried to higher courts immediately and hopes are entertained that the disposition of it may be as expeditious as that of the Franklin County pork hoarding case, which now is in the Supreme Court for determination of legal points on admission of violation of the law.

Leonard, as agent, was accused of having sold poultry after it had been kept in cold storage longer than the period of time prescribed by the Smith act.

He was defended by attorneys who raised every possible objection, including a demurrer, plea in abatement, attack on the constitutionality of the act, motion to quash the charge and a final plea of not guilty.

When all is over pleas were disposed of, the case was brought to trial and a judgment of guilty pronounced.

Leonard was fined $500 and costs. On a second offense a jail sentence is included in the penalties.

The case will go to the Franklin county common pleas court for review and will be sent through the other courts as rapidly as possible. This will be accomplished within a few weeks if the state is able to carry out its policy. The principal point is the constitutionality of the Smith cold storage act. The defendants will attack it on the ground that it is not proper health measure, they have indicated.

On the other hand, the state will urge that it is not intended to be a health measure, but one to prevent hoarding of food. As such it will be defended as a police measure necessary to the public policy.

The first victory for the state was hailed with considerable enthusiasm by the officials who have conducted the agitation for a reduction of the costs of living and against alleged objectionable practices in the handling of foods.

Inasmuch as the Leonard case was one in which the sale of "outlawed" poultry actually was made in violation of the Smith law, it is said, the case is different from those in which it is claimed that the food stuffs would be sold in interstate commerce.

Attorney-General John G. Price scored a second victory when W. N. Drake agent for Morris & Co., was convicted in the Columbus Municipal court. He, too, was fined $500 for having sold meats after they had been kept in cold storage longer than the prescribed time.

Federal Control Abandoned
Price received official word from Washington to the effect that the Federal government had relinquished control of meats and other food stuffs in storage February 22 of this year, and since then had exercised no authority whatever, permitting the state laws to remain vital.

This official information from the seat of the government is expected to end the claim that the state law is still in a state of suspension.

It was observed by officials today that one of the concrete results of the campaign against the inflated prices has been that the "cut-rate" sale is resuming popularity.

The reduction of prices, it is pointed out, ultimately will become as popular as it was in pre-war days, when a beginning has been made.

The practice of increasing prices frequently will fall into a state of disrepute officials say.

SENATOR NOT BADLY HURT.

WASHINGTON, August 22.—Senator Duncan Fletcher, of Florida, who was knocked down last night by a street car, was not seriously injured and probably will be out in a week, physicians announced today after an examination. There were no fractures, although the senator was badly bruised and cut.

GREAT PEARL HARBOR DRY DOCK IS DEDICATED IN PRESENCE OF SECRETARY DANIELS; COST $5,000,000

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 22.—Dedication of the Pearl Harbor naval drydock in the presence of Secretary of Navy Josephus Daniels, and distinguished military, naval and civilian officials, marked the completion of an important unit in a navy and army construction program designed to make this island of the Hawaiian group, Cahu, the Gibraltar of the Pacific.

The Pearl Harbor dock, work on which was begun ten years ago, represents an investment of more than $5,000,000. It is one of the largest naval drydocks in the world and will accommodate any warship now floating the American flag. Secretary Daniels came to Hawaii with the battleship New York, and the destroyers Chauncey, Dent, Philip and Waters to participate in the dedicatory ceremonies. Others who assisted were Rear Admiral William B. Fletcher, Commandant of the Pearl Harbor yard, and officers of the visiting warships.

Pearl Harbor, seven miles from Honolulu by railroad, has been declared by naval experts to be the finest natural naval base in the world. The entrance to the harbor from the open sea is a little more than 50 yards wide, the channel, or canal, having been dredged in the shallow coral. The harbor is divided into three natural bays, or lochs,

Celebrate Air Mail Success

CLEVELAND, August 22.—Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster general, and Halsey Dunwoody, head of the technical branch of the army, will be guests of honor at a banquet here tonight in celebration of 100 days of 100 per cent aerial mail service between here and Chicago. Postmasters from Omaha, Chicago, St. Louis and Minneapolis, and about 100 airplane manufacturers and aerial authorities are expected to attend. The ten day aviation carnival closed here today.

STEEL WORKERS ARE SEEKING TO AVOID STRIKE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 22.—The labor record today publishes a statement by W. Z. Foster, member of the conference committee of steel unions which is to try to arrange a meeting with representatives of the U. S. steel corporation, saying that all means will be used to prevent a strike, but if necessary the steel workers "will bring every mill in the country to a standstill."

After reviewing the unanimity of the strike vote of which he said 98 per cent, favored a strike, the statement says:

"It is questionable if ever there has existed a stronger movement for organization than is now raging in the steel mills of this country. Should it come to a strike which can only happen after all other means have failed, the steel workers will bring every mill in the country to a standstill."

Union organizers here have had no word of the plans of the conference committee which has headquarters at Mr. Foster's office in Pittsburgh, toward seeking a meeting with U. S. steel representatives.

AKRON, August 22.—Union machinists in Akron went on strike this morning for a 44-hour week and $1 an hour, second and third shift men to work 10 hours a week and draw pay for 44 hours. Other demands include a scale of 64 cents an hour for helpers.

Union leaders claim that 3,000 men will be affected and that machine work in 21 factories will be stopped.

SIX OF BANDITS' BAND SLAIN IN MOUNTAINS AS THE YANKEES ADVANCE TO THE SOUTHWARD

Country is Being Thoroughly Scoured for the Marauders. Who Have Been Thus Far Unchecked By Pres. Carranza.

(By Associated Press.)

MARFA, Texas, Aug. 22.—The American punitive expedition against Mexican bandits who held Lieutenants Harold G. Peterson and Paul H. Davis, army aviators for ransom, was making progress today, according to advices from the field and reports that the United States forces would be withdrawn at once were denied officially.

Suspect Held in Pandora Bank Robbery Case

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—A week's search by post office inspectors and detectives ended late last night in the taking into custody here of a third suspect who is believed to have some connection with the gang of bandits who several weeks ago robbed the West Cleveland Banking company of $45,000.

The suspect was being held in police today for investigation before being turned over to Bucyrus authorities where it is said he is wanted on a charge of blowing the safe of a Pandora Ohio bank on June 19 and robbing it of $25,000.

When taken into custody by post office inspector E. D. Beatty, Detective Henry James of Columbus and two local detectives, the suspect had $1700 in bills on his person and bank notes showing deposits of $19,000.

Postoffice inspectors say the man is believed to know much about a number of robberies of safes in small postoffices in the southern part of the state. The Columbus police have been working on the case and trailing the man, who was a former saloon keeper in another town, for some time.

No definite time has been fixed for the withdrawal but it is understood that the plan of campaign includes at least another week's search through the mountains for the Renteria band.

The American troops camped last night at a place where there was plenty of water. The soldiers scouted the surrounding country throughout the day in separate detachments, but concentrated in the camp at dark. The trails are so rocky and steep that pack mules carrying supplies fell over cliffs and several were lost. A number of horses of Major C. C. Smith's command also fell off the trail but none of the horses riders was injured.

The storms soaked the blankets and uniforms of the men, causing many to sleep in wet clothes last night.

Five Bandits Killed.
Five bandits are known to have been killed by the Americans so far with a possibility of a sixth one, a bandit having been seen to fall from his horse when aviators returned the fire.

It developed that the two prisoners reported captured by Captain Matlack were men killed at the block house on Wednesday. The American Red Cross sent an automobile load of cigarettes, chewing gum and tobacco to the river for loading on pack mules enroute to the punitive expedition. Aviators loaded planes with the same articles to take to the cavalry today.

GOES BY AIRPLANE.

MARFA, Texas, Aug. 22.—Before starting on his return by airplane today to join the punitive expedition in Mexico, Captain Leonard Matlack of the eighth cavalry, who rescued Lieutenants Peterson and Davis held by Mexican bandits, sent a telegram to his little daughter Bonita, who lives at 1203 south First street, Louisville, Kentucky, telling her that he was safe. The girl's mother is dead and she lives with Captain Matlack's brother.

Captain Matlack shared honors with General Jos. T. Dickman at a reception and band concert last night. Captain Matlack was congratulated on his rescue of the aviators and with the escape of part of the ransom.

Rifles and automatic pistols belonging to the bandits killed in Mexico, Wednesday were recovered by cavalry troops together with a quantity of American made ammunition, which was found on the bodies of the dead men. Jesus Jaur who was killed in an assault on the block house was arrested at the Britte ranch last year, taken to Candelaria, Texas and placed in jail. His son, Francisco, also killed Wednesday, broke the lock, liberated his father and both escaped to Mexico.

Is Old Offender.
Juan Jose Fuentes, the third dead bandit identified, is charged with killing a man at Barrancas, Chihuahua. He crossed to the American side following the killing and was pursued back into Mexico by United States troops recently.

According to Captain Matlack, Jesus Renteria cut the throat of Mike Welch, stage driver between Valentine and Candelaria, Texas, December 25, 1917, when the Britte ranch was raided. He said he had evidence that Renteria sat on the driver's body and cut his throat

TEN INDICTMENTS ARE FOUND BY GRAND JURY AGAINST OHIO BAKERIES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

COLUMBUS, Aug. 22.—Five individual and four corporations, all engaged in the baking business, were indicted for violating the provisions of the Valentine anti-trust law by profiteering in food by the Franklin county grand jury which reported this morning.

Those indicted are Amzi G. Beck, vice president and general manager of the Columbus Bread company; George Bollinger, general manager of the Brennenman Baking company; J. W. Cartzadner, general manager of the Reynolds Baking company; Hector Urquhart, of Springfield, president of the Reynolds Baking company; Sterling Donaldson, general manager of the Occident Baking company; the Columbus Bread company; the Brennenman Baking company; the Reynolds Baking company and the Occident Baking company.

The blanket indictment charges ception. Men stand a great deal before they rebel.

While Senator Gronna says the high cost of living must come down, Mr. Baker, Secretary of War, says that he must have a standing army of nearly 600,000 men because "the disturbed state of the world" demands such an "army."

Would the disturbed state demand so big an army if this particular state the United States, would mind its own business?

(Copyright, 1919)

the companies and their managers with having operated a combine between January 14 and August 21, 1919, under which they increased the price of bread and prevented competition in its sale.

Prosecutor Schlesinger stated at the indictments had been returned that testimony showed that one of the companies indicted at one time had sold 20,000 pounds of bread to a stock dealer to be fed to pigs. The bread company, he said, contended that the bread was spoiled yet a number of witnesses said they had eaten the bread and that it was fit for consumption. The bread was sold to the stock dealer for a cent a loaf.

The Occident Baking company is a Minnesota corporation.

Lake Freights Tied up Early

TOLEDO, Aug. 22.—For the first time in the history of navigation here, freight carrying boats will be laid up for the season before the end of August.

Because of strikes at upper lake ports, the Pittsburgh Steamship company today made arrangements to retire 16 great freighters at once and quarter them in the Bayview Park lagoon, a short distance from the site of the Willard-Desmoyes arena. Usually these vessels are in service until November or early in December.

with a pocket knife while another member of the band held his head by the hair. Renteria is known as "the fiend" on both sides of the river, Captain Matlack said.

While no official announcement was made it is understood that co-operation will be given the Americans by Carranga troops. Action of Mexican federal troops yesterday in permitting American troops to pass in the pursuit of the bandits being considered evidence of a friendly attitude.

practically at a standstill. Manufacturers say that less than half that number will obey the strike order.

The International Harvester company, largest employer of skilled machinists in the city, is not affected, as an agreement was reached at that shop some time ago. Other employers, it is said, ignored union demands and precipitated the strike action.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., August 22.—A committee of leading business men were to meet today in an effort to formulate a plan by which striking motormen and conductors of the Louisville Street Railway company will return to work and end the strike which has entirely suspended street car service here since Monday. Unless the strike is settled within six days a sympathetic strike of all union organizations in the city will be called by the United Trades and Labor Assembly, according to a resolution adopted at a meeting of labor representatives last night.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., August 22.—With switchmen and yard employees of the Southern Pacific, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and Los Angeles and Salt Lake Line on strike and trainmen of Southern Pacific divisions out of Los Angeles, refusing to move trains, railway officials were uncertain whether train service which was suspended last night could be resumed early today. The strike of the switchmen came suddenly and without announced reason, railway officials said. The Southern Pacific trainmen left their places shortly thereafter.

CITY ORDERS SUGAR PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 22.—City officials have taken steps to relieve the acute sugar shortage that has existed here for the past month by placing an order with the government for the delivery of thirty-five thousand pounds of sugar. Mayor Kapa and other officials will conduct the sale of the sugar on its arrival.

Striking Girls Who Invaded Broadway

Being a striker doesn't always mean loafing. The actors, actresses and chorus girls on strike in New York have been working just as hard as when they were appearing on the stage. This photograph shows a number of chorus girls leaving the Actor's Equity Association headquarters for an afternoon parade along Broadway. They also have been kept busy doing picket duty.

GROCER ENDS LIFE.

AKRON, O., August 22.—Louis Krice, 21, Bowery street grocer, committed suicide today by hanging himself from a rafter in the store basement. Financial difficulties are believed to have caused the act.

ALASKA VOLCANOES RESUME ACTIVITY SCIENTISTS FIND

"Valley of Ten Thousand Smokers" Set Aside As National Property

American Expedition Will Remain In District Until September

JUNEAU, Alaska, July 30, (By Mail).—Volcanic peaks in the far southwestern corner of Alaska are in eruption this summer evidently for the benefit of a party of scientists sent by the National Geographic society to study Mount Katmai, the greatest of Alaska's smoking mountains, and its "Valley of Ten Thousand Smokers."

Persons who have returned recently from the volcanic country to the westward said Shishaldin Peak, on Unimak Island, in the Aleutian chain, was in eruption recently. They also reported it was believed Mount Bawloff on the southwestern Alaskan mainland, also had spouted as the snow about the summit was coal-black.

When the party of scientists left Anchorage, Alaska, on their way to the Katmai country, they said they believed there was little likelihood of an eruption this summer and declared they were certain there was absolutely no danger attached to the investigation. Katmai's last big "blow off" was in June, 1912.

The party of 26 scientists is headed by Professor Robert A. Griggs of the University of Ohio and some are from Carnegie Institute. They are planning to make observations of the botanical, biological and geological effects of the 1912 eruption.

In 1913 Professor Griggs headed a party of scientists to Katmai returned with the announcement that the crater was the largest on the globe and that near Katmai lay a great valley whose floor was dotted with thousands of mouths vomiting gray vapors and smoke. This valley, Professor Griggs named "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokers." Instead of ten thousand, it is said there are literally millions of smoking vents.

Congress recently set aside "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokers" as national property and it is believed that some day it will be a second Yellowstone keyser field. Steaming springs, it is said, will eventually take the place of the present smoking vents.

Professor Griggs and his party expect to remain in the Katmai district until the middle of September. Until they return nothing probably will be heard from them as there is no direct means of communication. Mrs. Griggs and her children accompanied the professor to Kodiak, an island near Katmai, and will remain there during the summer waiting for him to return.

Moving pictures of the smoking mountain and valley are to be brought back by the party.

ARCHDUKE JOSEPH EXPECTED TO RETIRE AS HUNGARY HEAD

PARIS, August 22.—The supreme council of the peace conference expects to hear of the resignation of Archduke Joseph as head of the Hungarian government within a few days. Apparently the council is of the opinion that it is not necessary to take any more drastic steps than those outlined in the instructions sent to the inter-allied military mission in Budapest on Tuesday or Wednesday for delivery to the Hungarian government.

In the instructions the council set forth that it did not regard the government of Archduke Joseph as in any sense a popular one and declared it would not deal with it.

Herbert Hoover, head of the international relief organization, who has returned from a trip to Central Europe, knew of these instructions when he appeared before the council yesterday and believed them to be too mild to bring results. His frank statement was interpreted by the American delegation as being in general accord with the attitude of the council, although it is attempting to accomplish the downfall of Archduke Joseph by methods less heroic than he advocates.

COPENHAGEN, August 22.—Polish troops have administered a crushing defeat on the Bolsheviks and the soviet forces are now being pursued everywhere, the Polish general staff at Warsaw announces. The fortress of Rovno, in Volynia, nia, northeast of Dubno, has been captured by the Poles after hard fighting.

East of Minsk the Poles have reached the line of Ithumen-Dortyn.

Apparently the Poles are advancing north and south of the Pripiet marshes east of Brest Litovsk. Ithumen is 40 miles from Minsk. Rovno is one of the triangle of fortresses in southwestern Volynia. The other two, Latsk and Dubno, have been captured by the Poles within the last few weeks.

General Petlura, the Ukrainian leader, and General Denikine, the anti-Bolshevik commander in southern Russia, continue their offense successfully, according to reports received in London by prominent Poles. The advance of the Poles puts the Bolshevik front in action from Minsk to northeast of Odessa. A Bolshevik wireless communication received in London yesterday said that the soviet troops were retiring before the Denikine forces in the regions of Zubna and Morenovoe.

ICE PLANT BURNS

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 22.—Fire this morning completely destroyed a four story concrete block building formerly operated by as a brewery by the Leon Ebert Brewing company at Ironton, but of late operated as cold storage and ice plant by John Truby. After the fire had gutted the interior of the building, all four walls collapsed and left it a mass of ruins.

DEPUTY SHERIFF FLEES

LISBON, Aug. 22.—A warrant was issued today for the arrest of Deputy Sheriff J. W. Davidson, accused of embezzling $2,400 of the sheriff's office funds. The affidavit was filed by Sheriff William Dalrymple. Davidson let here last Saturday, the sheriff says saying he was going to South America as correspondent for a newspaper syndicate. The shortage was discovered Monday. A state examiner has been asked to come here to audit the books. Davidson, at one time served as sheriff of Columbia county.

Henri Dunant

A CORRESPONDENT wants to know who founded the Red Cross. She says she has understood it was started by the mother of the ex-kaiser. But the correspondent desires that her name be withheld, because she is a member of the Red Cross and is ashamed that she does not know who founded the institution.

Henri Dunant was the founder of the Red Cross, and to him, alone belongs the glory. He was a man of means, and had devoted much of his life to the alleviation of human suffering, and was known as one of the most philanthropic of men. He was half French and half Swiss.

After the battle of Solferino, where the Austrians were routed and where Europe was freed from the menace of the Hapsburgs, Dunant visited the field and the hospitals. The arrangements for taking care of the wounded were so poor that he determined then and there to devote the rest of his life to perfecting plans for the care and treatment of soldiers engaged in battle—and he didn't care whose soldiers they were. He began writing letters to prominent people, and asking for support of his proposition.

Empress Eugenie of France was one of the first prominent persons to take an interest in Dunant's proposition. The mother of the ex-kaiser was early impressed with the idea. She was a daughter of Queen Victoria of England. She and Eugenie had much to do with the success of the idea, but many other prominent people also had a good deal to do with it.

A convention was called at Geneva on October 26, 1863, and fourteen nations sent representatives, the object of the convention being stated to be, "An international conference for the purpose of inquiring into the means of correcting the inadequacy of the sanitary service of armies in the field." Dunant addressed the conference and urged his ideas upon the delegates, with the result that the convention adopted resolutions declaring war hospitals inviolate, and ordaining that nurses and surgeons should be safe from molestation. The delegates made arrangements at the time for the formation of an international society to attend to the details, and adopted the emblem—a red cross upon a white field. That was the origin of the Red Cross.

Mail Your Letters Early

THE POSTOFFICE department, in the interest of better mail service, is urging the people of this city to mail their letters early in the day, a thing that few people so much as think of doing. But to those who take the trouble to think, it is a reasonable thing to ask, and it ought to be complied with.

In the nature of business, most of the mail must be placed in the office late in the afternoon. The tremendous volume of correspondence renders it almost impossible to handle the mail deposited late in the afternoon for the out-going trains at night. So there are bound to be delays and inconveniences.

If a greater proportion of the mail were deposited earlier in the day there would be greater speed in getting it out of the city and consequently greater satisfaction.

If mail is deposited in the postoffice before noon, it easily reaches New York, for instance, early next morning. If it is not deposited until late in the afternoon, it does not reach New York in time to be delivered the following day. So a letter mailed at noon actually reaches the addressee in New York twenty-four hours earlier than if mailed at four or five o'clock. The same thing holds good as regards mail destined for other cities, of course.

While the business day is supposed to extend over something like eight hours, we have actually brought it down to about three or four hours. That is, we attempt to do most of the business, in the afternoon. The stores understand it too well, they know that the tendency of shoppers is to crowd the day into three or four hours, and now the postoffice department is appealing to patrons along the same line. But the strange part of it is that these same business men who urge people to shop early, or to call at their offices in the forenoon, themselves wait until late in the afternoon to deposit their mail in tubes or letter boxes or the postoffice.

Bibles For Soldiers

THE AMERICAN BIBLE society's report shows that it distributed something like six million copies of Scripture during the war—Bibles, Testaments and pamphlets containing portions of the Bible and Testament. The literature was in several languages, with English predominating.

As a side light on this distribution of Scripture, it is said by those who were in position to know, that practically none of it was abandoned by the soldiers, or thrown away. The soldiers threw away practically everything else. In the heat of battle, upon the tiresome journeys, about the camps, there was everything under the sun abandoned by the soldiers except the Bible. No soldier threw away the Scriptures, whether he devoted any considerable time to reading it or not.

There is of course no way of estimating the actual good accomplished through this enormous distribution of Scripture. There is not even any way of knowing the relative number of copies that were actually read. But it is certain that it was worth while—that the comfort and consolation afforded was of great value. And it is also certain that the influence of this distribution of Sacred literature will be far reaching and everlasting. With six million pieces of such literature in the hands of soldiers, most of whom have now become private citizens, there is bound to result a great deal of good.

HAPPY THOUGHT Paint is so high now that nobody thinks of painting the town red.

In the east they're wearing stenciled stockings, and out here in the middle west we're wondering how they'll look the first time they're caught in a rainstorm.

No one has yet suggested that Great Britain pay off some of its war debts by transferring the island of Ireland to the United States.

MIH GOSH AND OTHER NOTABLES HELP WIN WAR

Many Peculiar Names Found Among Soldiers Who Served U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Paris Green helped win the war. So did a Little Kittle Carr and a Dinner Bell. All of them were in the army, according to file cards in the bureau of war risk insurance. Green lives in Huntington, W. Va.; Little Kittle Carr makes his home in Norfolk, Va., and Dinner Bell Page was rung into service from Urick, Mo. Some others who appear in the bureau's file office are:

Asad Experience Wilson, of Van Hook, N. D.; Mih Gosh, of Chicago; Green Horn, of Statesboro, Ga.; Velvet Couch, of Brinkley, Ark.; Will Swindle, of Center, Texas; Suaghter Day, of Oscar Tarbin, La., and E. Pluribus Brown, of Perry, Ga.

Chocolate Candy Clark, Owen Money, Willie Darling, Great Britton Turner, Wiley Fox Hunter, Green Jerry Anderson, Youstus Horrible Jiner, George Sleeps From House, Handson Pleasant Ayres, Greep Hue Johnson, Lloyd George Parliament, Grief, Grimes, Precious Eugene Grant, Free Office Graves, Buckleberry Shell, Isaac Didnot Butcher and Fine German are also listed.

Some to Spare.

The broad jump record in names goes to a resident of Salmon, Idaho, who hurdles five before he reaches the tape. He is Harry Adolph Thomas, at Richard Eugene Bullock and the clerks in the bureau are tempted to disturb Mr. Bullock's continuity by punctuating him.

The clerks have found 59 ways of spelling Aloysius and 18 ways of spelling Ignatz. There were 53,000 Johnsons, 51,000 Smiths and 18,500 Walkers in the service. Forty-seven thousand Williamses were with the colors.

There were 51 Jose Rodriguezes in the 374th infantry.

Notables Represented.

Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Robert E. Lees and William Jennings were in the service by the thousands. Napoleon Bonaparte, or rather a dozen of him, fought for the United States. General Grant, General Wellington and General Jackson also helped beat the Germans. Quite a few Virgin Marys were in the army, too. These latter were largely men of Latin descent. Orange Cobb of Nolima, N. C., and his son, Lemon Cobb, were in the service.

FLIERS FIND FOOD.

TAMPA, Fla., August 22.—By making an airplane flight of 125 miles an agent of the chamber of justice found 27 carloads of food-stuffs at Key West, bound for Cuba, reported the find and the shipment today was held up for instructions from Washington.

STATE OFFICERS ELECTED.

COLUMBUS, O., August 22.—Officers were elected today by Ohio Negro Masons, as follows: William E. Hauger, Toledo, Grand High Priest of the Ohio chapter; Howard C. Gilbert, Columbus, deputy; John P. Bewles, Columbus, King; Peter McGowan, Lima, scribe; Goodrich Giles, Piqua, treasurer; Leroy Johnson, Portsmouth, secretary.

7,000 AMERICAN TROOPS TO STAY ON GERMAN SOIL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—American forces which will remain in Germany after September 30 are the eighth infantry, seventh machine gun battalion, second battalion of the sixth field artillery, thirty-fifth field signal battalion, first supply train, first mobile ordnance repair shop, company A of the first engineers, field hospital number 13 and ambulance company number 26. This was announced today by the war department.

The aggregate strength of these units will be nearly 7,000 officers and men. The infantry regiment comprises 3,800 the machine gun battalion 775, the artillery 750 and the engineers 250, giving a total combatant strength of 5,500.

TWO U. S. AVIATORS ARE MISSING IN LOWER CALIFORNIA

SAN DIEGO, Calif., August 22.—Army aviators from Rockwell Field, started early today in a fresh attempt to solve the mystery of the disappearance Wednesday, near Jacumba, Mexico, of Lieutenants Frederick B. Waterhouse and C. H. Connelly, of the ninth aero squadron patrol and their big De Havilland plane. This announcement was made by Colonel A. K. Hinton, commanding at Rockwell Field after the night had passed without any tidings of the missing flyers.

Fifteen aviators from the field aided by details of Mexican troops, ordered to the search by Governor Esteban Cantu, of Lower California, yesterday vainly combed the timbered hills near Jacumba, where the lost flyers are reported to have been seen last on their way here from Yuma, Arizona.

Every assistance was given by the Mexican soldiers, acting under instructions from Governor Cantu, who always has maintained the most friendly relations with Americans along the border.

UNITED STATES BECOMES SECOND NAVAL POWER

Uncle Sam Formidable Contender for Top Place First Time in Recent History

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The rapid rise of the United States as a naval power during the past two years is graphically demonstrated in figures showing the sea strength of the various world powers, compiled by the navy department's office of naval intelligence. They show that the United States, close pressed by France in 1917 for its place as third naval power in the world, is now second only to Great Britain and is at present pushing to completion a building program that will make the American navy, for the first time in recent history, a formidable contender for first navy honors.

A little more than two years ago, the figures show Germany, then second naval power, boasted more than 100 more ships of all classes than the United States, with a total tonnage exceeding that of the American navy by nearly 200,000 tons. Great Britain's fleet at that time numbered a total of 680 ships aggregating 2,375,564 tons, as compared with Germany's 262 ships and 1,058,240 tons and the United States' 153 ships and 860,017 tons.

Today Germany, now in third place among naval powers, has a "paper" navy of 450 ships of all types, totaling 826,537 tons. These figures do not include German vessels surrendered to the allies or Russian vessels in the hands of the Germans. Regarded from the standpoint of fighting efficiency as distinguished from number of ships and tonnage, Germany is outclassed by both France and Japan, her navy being composed almost entirely of old and obsolete vessels. The pride of Germany's sea power was surrendered to the allies at Scapa Flow, where many of them were sunk by their officers and crew.

Japan, fifth naval power in 1917, has passed France and Germany both and now ranks next to the United States in fighting sea strength. The actual standing of the naval powers of the world today from the standpoint of modern fighting strength according to the navy department's figures is Great Britain, United States, Japan, France, Germany, Russia and Italy.

The completion of all vessels now building and projected will add 219 ships totaling 500,000 tons to the United States navy as compared with 149 ships and 1,116,599 tons for the United States, 21 ships and 167,200 tons for Japan and 13 ships and 96,000 tons for Germany, according to the most authentic figures available at the navy department.

The completion of the present building programs a matter of about three years, will find the chief naval powers of the world with the following relative strengths: Great Britain 975 ships aggregating 2,772,422 tons; United States 608 ships totaling 2,117,922 tons; Japan 170 ships, 785,239 tons; France 253 ships 719,277 tons; and Germany 161 ships measuring 927,137 tons.

ILLNESS UPSETS HIS NERVES AND MADE ARM NUMB

H. L. Martin Tells How Nervous He Was and What Doctors Couldn't Do.
This was a serious case. It looked very bad for that arm. But that was before Mr. Martin looked on the power of Nerv-Worth. Afterward, but let Mr. Martin tell the story as he did a short time ago to his Zinsville Ohio druggist.
Zinsville's Drug Store—I met with an accident some time ago which left me in a very nervous condition all over. I tried different doctors and could get no relief. They all said I would probably be troubled all my life.
I read where Nerv-Worth had been helping so many people and decided to try it. The first bottle made me feel better and after taking three bottles THE NERVELESS WAS ALL GONE from my arm and I felt as good as I ever did. I surely recommend Nerv-Worth to anyone suffering from nervous troubles.

Correct Apparel for Women and Misses

Saturday, Our First Complete Assemblage of Luxurious New Fall Modes Embodying Fashion's Latest Decrees

Advance Presentation

New Fall Suits

In the strictly tailored models the suits are trimmed with buttons and braid, while the ultra-fashionable models are trimmed with fur. The favored fabrics are: Serge, Silvertone, Duvet de Laine, Silk Duvetone, Peach Bloom, Tinseltone, Tricotone and Poiret Twill. They are lined in Pure Silk, both in fancy figured and solid colors.

The new Tailored Suit will be most conspicuous among the popular styles for Fall. The coats are principally straight line or ripple effects. Other models are developed in long semi-fitted lines.

Short Plush Coats and Coatees

In Smart Fall Models

Plush Coats and Coatees will be worn very much by the younger set the coming season. They are here in many authentic styles—the pick of New York's choicest lines may be seen here tomorrow. The fabrics are: Plush, Buffin Seal, Sales Hudson Seal, Yukon Seal, Beaver Plush and Mole Plush. They come in Pure Silk fancy linings and are to be had either with or without fur trimmings.

These coats were bought early and they are priced $10 lower than the actual market value today.

$39.75 to $100

New Blouses Herald the Fall Mode

Read Fashion's preferences in our display of recent arrivals, Fall Blouses of notable interest to every woman who studies style.

Rich-hued Batik Velvets, knee-length Russian Blouses, Tablier and Over Blouses in Georgette Crepes; Suit Blouses with rich color contrast introduced in effective braidings, embroideries and fringes; Tailored Blouses of the practical type—all are here.

Attractively Priced from $7.95 to $15.75

Women's Fall Frocks Of Navy Blue Tricotone

Fashion looks with much favor upon the fabric Tricotone, and employs it for many Fall dresses. They are hand embroidered in soft taupe shades of silk, some are girdled with heavy tasseled cords.

Other Tailored Dresses

New silhouettes in Tricotone, Serge and Jersey introduce rich embroideries, braiding and braid panels. Both the short waisted and the jacket effects are the newest of the Fall modes.

A Collection Priced from $19.75 to $75

Advance Winter Models In Luxurious Furs

Suitable for Every Occasion and Requirement

The approaching season will be an epoch making one in Fur history, for never in all their years of usefulness have Furs promised to play so important a part in the annals of Fashion. Never has the trend of style encouraged and developed a more lavish or fascinating display of Fur models than will be witnessed this season.

Furs purchased at Gregg's are always bought with our Guarantee of Satisfaction, and we offer and sell them on that basis only.

Never before has our stock of Furs been so extensive. Whether you desire the best and most expensive Coat made or the best Coat at a certain specified price—we have it.

You are most cordially invited to inspect our display—the largest and most extensive in Lima.

PUTNAM COUNTY BUDGET OF NEWS

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—The public and parochial schools will open, Sept. 1st. At a meeting of the county board of education, Miss Tillie Mayne, for the past three years Norman directress in Continental, was employed in the same capacity for the Putnam county normal school, now located in Ottawa. F. J. Ehrlich was reappointed on the county board of education for a term of 2 years.

The Putnam county teachers institute attracts large crowds daily. Many of the citizens and some of the club women are in attendance. Lincoln Hully, who lectures on literary subjects, has proven a source of delight to his hearers. Prof. Sunria is an instructor of teachers, in the highest meaning of that title. The board of education voted to have a teachers institute next year. Prof. Hulley is a candidate for governor of Florida. His home is in DeLand, Fla.

The program for the remaining two days of institute, is as follows: Thursday morning, opening exercises; conference on current topics of education interest, Prof. Suhrie; intermission; music: "Lowell, the Yankee Idyllist." Hulley. Noon. Afternoon, opening exercises: "A National Program in Education." Suhrie; intermission; music: "Kipling and Tommy Atkins." Hulley; dismissal. Friday, opening exercises: "Tennyson's Beautiful Life and Message." Hulley; intermission; music: conference of educational topics, Suhrie. Noon. Afternoon, opening exercises: "Uncle Rastus, or Sketches in Charcoal." Hulley. Intermission; music: "The Self-Measurement of the Teacher." Suhrie.

Philip Luginbuhl, Pandora boy, has made good in the service of U. S. He has charge of inspect investigation in North and South Carolina. Northern Florida and Georgia, with headquarters at the University Campus, Columbia, S. C. His salary is $200 per month.

Aurora Bracy has been employed to teach at Rockport at $110 per month. A large barn belonging to John Martin, was destroyed by lightning at Pandora.

George Kahle, Ottawa and Harry Gallogly, Leipsic, have taken up soldiers' homesteads, 140 acres near Douglas, Ariz. Both boys were over-seas.

The new garage, Kersting Motor Sales Co., will be completed this week. It is on East Main street, and a fine addition to the appearance of the town.

It is expected that the new Masonic Temple will be completed about October 20.

Putnam county fair, October 7-11. It was at the head of the class in Ohio fairs last year, and will be better this year. No charges are made for live stock stalls. Many fairs charge 50c admission. This one charges 35c. Premiums have been raised in many classes. Boys' stock judging contest, Thursday, when all boys in this contest will be admitted free, as will those in the six best ears of 1919 corn contest. Grounds will be in holiday attire by fair time. They are, naturally beautiful for situation. All needlework, canning, baking, fruit, grains and vegetables confined to the county. One of the big features will be the 45 shorthorn calves shown by the Boys' and Girls' calf growing contest. Miss Mary Heckman is in charge of the Junior clubs, and will have a number of contestants with exhibits.

F. A. Henry, county recorder, has made the county over $600 over and above deputy hire, the past year.

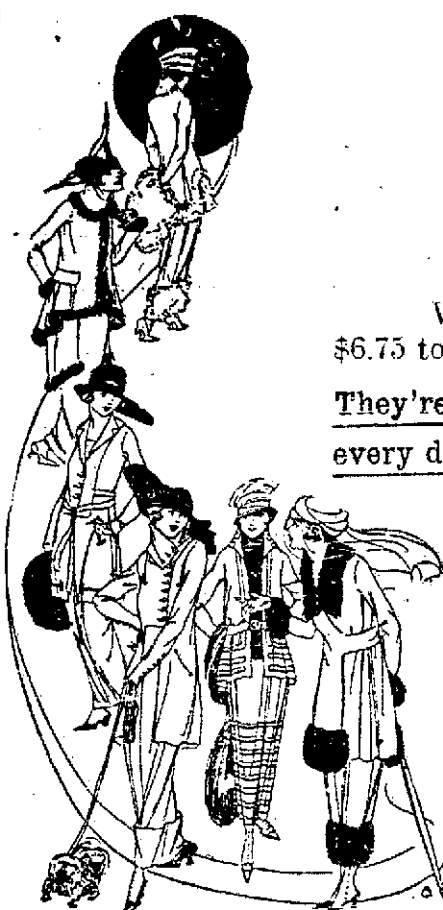

EX-EMPERORS' WIFE SELECTS NEW HOME, THE HOUSE OF DOOM

AMERONGEN, Aug. 22.—The former German empress personally selected the House of Doorn, which William Hohenzollern has purchased as the future home in which she and her one time imperial husband hope to settle down and live the lives of country gentle-folk.

The former empress has not yet seen the "House Doorn" but it is anticipated in Amerongen that he will soon pay a visit to Doorn. Recently he is reported to have been taking carriage rides with Count Von Bentinck, the owner of Amerongen castle where he is living at present. It is declared that he expressed himself as being anxious for a change in scenery from that within the limits which the Dutch government has restricted in all his movements.

Although the deeds for sale, "the House of Doorn" were signed only last Friday at Amerongen by the Baroness Van Hemstra De Beaufort, the owner of the estate and the ex-emperor's secretary Von Ismen, former Empress Augusta Victoria decided in favor of the purchase of the Doorn estate early in August, when she made a visit there. The house, though rich in history and imposing in appearance has only 12 rooms in addition to small chambers for servants. It is not expected the former emperor will leave Amerongen for three months. The former empress' heart again is troubling her. Dr. Forster is making frequent visits to the castle of Amerongen.

A Chance to Live

(By Zoe Beckley)

A CLOUD GATHERS

Annie assumed a pleasant smile, as if she had received some casual word about extra work, or an errand her husband was required to do, took wee Robbie from the arms of the too-interested janitress and climbed the stairs to her rooms, feeling as if her feet were treading deep sand and her knees weighted with ball and chain.

She felt sure now that Cadmium common had turned out disastrously and that their little nest egg was gone. But the distress of that was nothing compared to her fear of Bernie's losing the good will of old man Simms. Simms was a good friend and a bad enemy. Annie knew he meant to fulfill his threat if Bernie persisted in his foolishness. And then . . . She dared not pursue the thought.

"What became of that pool you put our savings in, Bernie?" Annie asked him that night after supper. She watched him closely and saw the start, the sudden tightening of his hands upon his newspaper, the muscles of his lean jaw play as he shut his teeth tightly.

"You needn't answer, Bernie," said Annie in a quiet tone, as he kept silence, fumbling in his mind for the best presentment of the case. "It's hard to lose the money. But it'll be a lesson to us, won't it? Promise me, dear, on your word of honor, we'll never go into anything like that again—not for anything—not under any circumstances. Promise."

Annie went up to him and put both hands against his cheeks. When he still did not speak she repeated "Promise me," emphasizing the syllables with little moves of his head from side to side and a hastening pat or two.

Bernie reached up, took hold of her wrists and drew her down on his lap. He had recovered himself, and now spoke frankly and earnestly, holding her against him affectionately.

"Listen, Nance. Cadmium common was the first one of these things that ever went wrong. It made me sick, thinking of how our money—especially your little wad—was wiped out. And coming just when it did—while you were needing everything comfortable and nice. I tell you I kicked myself a million times. But it was just a piece of dumb luck, Nan. The thing to do is to buy more milk."

Annie wrenched herself free from his arms and pumped up.

"Bernie!"

"Why—what's the excitement? You act as if you'd been shot."

"Bernie!" Annie ignored his light interjection. "You'd never, never as long as you live, think of doing that again, would you?"

"Nan, don't act like a kid! I know more about this thing than you do. I ain't a hare-brained fool. I ain't trying to clean up a fortune without working. I'm going to keep my job, and take care of you and the little chap. All we fellows want is to break even. We ain't going into this as a regular thing. But there are a few perfectly safe investments a fellow can go into in a small way and get his money back. That's all we want to do—get our money back and then quit. I promise you I'll do that."

Annie regarded him soberly. His earnest manner, his confidence, reassured her a little. She knew he was good—kind and hard-working and "steady," as the phrase went. The shock of the telephone message from Simms had worn off a little. Still—she must be doubly sure Bernie would do nothing rash, nothing to imperil his position with the chemical company.

"There's something else," she said. "Old Mr. Simms called me up today. Bern. He's heard about those pools, and he doesn't like it one bit. He told me I must keep you from ever going into anything like that again. He says he'll fire you right straight off if he ever gets wind of anything of the sort again."

Potted plants water themselves when placed on a new dish to hold water, in the center of the cover of which is an opening holding a sponge, through which the water rises into the holes in the flower pots.

The Value of a Store Should Be Measured By the Service to the Public

Every merchant should have an ideal. He should believe with all his soul that his calling is a worthy one. He should have an abiding faith that his business—rightly conducted—has a vital part in the life of his community. Right now we are in the midst of an unprecedented situation. The world seems to be off its axis. Every person of every station in life should feel a deep-rooted obligation to do everything in his power to help set things right.

Money is abundant—avarice is rampant. It is so easy to sell any kind of merchandise for any kind of price that some merchants seem to have lost all sense of the value of abnormal profits.

The underlying principle of a square deal to the public always—adopted at the policy of this store more than thirty-seven years ago—will not be wavered from in times like these or at any other time. We rejoice in the opportunity to be of greater genuine service to the public than ever before.

This store could sell shoes at today's factory-producing market prices and make a great deal of money. Immense buying facilities, intimate personal contact with all elements that relate to the making of shoes, anticipation of the needs of the public long in advance, gives us merchandise that has advanced in wholesale cost several times since its purchase.

This merchandise is passed on to you on the basis on which it was originally purchased, tho today's prices are far in advance. This is our idea of serving the public—giving them every advantage that our leadership gives us—which is why shoes can be bought here for less than elsewhere, quality considered always.

We want you to realize that whatever your wants in footwear, this is your shoe store.

XVI. - TWO DISCOVERIES

Captain Frazier paid me marked attention throughout the rest of the evening to the evident discomfiture of Pan, who launched up on a retaliatory flirtation with George Wharton. The lively widow, Mrs. Carlton, whom I had met at several "first nights" with George, proved a very good sport and consoled Billy, though that gentleman needed little consolation after the Captain's Jap servant brought forth bottles and glasses. As for the engaged pair, we heard only the low murmur of their voices on the veranda until they were summoned for supper.

I liked the big living room which ran the full length of the bungalow. There was a fireplace at either end large enough for a man to stand in, with a low fire burning to dispel the chill of an April night so near the water. Navajo rugs and blankets were scattered about carelessly and the deep window seats were piled with gay cushions. A few good pictures choice bits of pottery proclaimed cultured taste of the owner.

"My rooms in town have not been denuded and this place is rather bleak," explained the Captain.

"I like it as it is," I declared. "So restful and cool! Such a charming place to slip away from the world when you want to meet your own soul!"

"And other souls," supplemented the Captain.

"Let's dance again," I suggested. The Jap slipped a waltz on the victrola and we strung off down the polished floor.

"There are some men with whom one could dance pleasantly on the edge of death. Dick Frazier was one of them. He had the grace the muscular control of a panther. I have danced with men who gyrated who hopped, who perspired, who worked my arm up and down like a pump—and still called dancing. But I never did after that night when I earned what it was to glide almost without movement in strong arms that suggested, rather than enforced, their presence.

I love to dance. My blood beats to the rhythm of the music and my body responds. Reformists condemn the terpsichorean art as immoral. Perhaps it is to them. Perfect harmony is always sinful to the puritanical mind which demands the goading hair-shirt of discord. And there can be no perfect union, or sense of oneness of spirit that between two people who translate music into movement.

"You are an unusual dancer, Mrs. Tindall," and my partner.

"I might say the same, were it not inadequate," I returned. "Is this the product of army discipline?"

"I learned to dance in Honolulu. I was stationed at Schofield Barracks. A charming young English girl taught me."

"Violet Crossley?" I exclaimed on a hazard.

He released me suddenly and looked down at me astonished.

"How do you know?" he asked.

I ignored the question.

"So you're the man! Poor Violet!"

"Why, 'poor Violet' and what man?" with raised brows.

"Nothing. Let us finish the dance. I will tell you later how your exploits have preceded you."

"You will tell me now," he declared leading me to the screened veranda.

I sank into a nest of pillows in the swing and Captain Frazier seated himself beside me.

"Well, let's have it."

"Violet Crossley," I began, "was a school friend of mine. She was engaged to a young officer in the Royal Flying Corps. I saw her when she returned from Hawaii to sail for England and a hasty war wedding. No joyous bride there! She would say nothing until I was bidding her an revoir, then she whispered to me, I met a man in Honolulu—an army officer. I taught him to dance—he kissed me—I will remember it on my wedding day."

RELEASE TRAIN RIDERS

Two young men, David McHenry, 19, and Garrison Meyers, 26, both of Oswego, N. Y., who were "just passing through" Lima were arrested last night by a detective of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. They were arraigned in police court this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of train riding.

They were each sentenced to five days in city prison. The sentences, however, were suspended by Judge Botkin on condition they get out of the city.

CANDIDATES FILE EXPENSE STATEMENT

Today is the last day in which candidates who made the race at the recent primary election may file a statement of the expense involved in their respective contests.

According to A. J. Morris, clerk of the board of elections, practically every candidate has filed, and up to date, there are only one or two who paid out anything in their efforts to get the nominations. R. R. Traubey, who defeated Clement Olier for judge of the criminal court on the republican ticket, heads the list, with over $10 spent.

BIG FAMILY REUNION

A record breaking attendance is expected at the reunion of the Fort, Cates and Ludwig families to be held next Tuesday at City park. A splendid program has been arranged, and practically every member of the three families is expected to be present.

Mrs. Charles Baxter, wife of the sheriff, is secretary of the reunion.

By WINSTON CHURCHILL

(Condensation by Hon. David I. Walsh, Ex-Governor of Massachusetts and United States Senator)

I take no shame in the pride with which I write of my grandfather, Lionel Carvel, Esq., of Carvel Hall, in his lordship's province of Maryland, albeit he favored his majestic life was no palavering turncoat like my uncle Grafton, whom I knew for a great rascal who had been banished to his estate in Kent county for saving in my grandfather's province that my mother had not been fit to marry a Carvel. But if Grafton was a shadow on my boyhood, there was also a great light, and this was Miss Dorothy Manners, my constant playmate.

Dorothy bloomed early and too soon became a great beauty with all our Annapolis maroons at her feet. Thanks to her foppish father, Mr.

poisoned his ear against me did my grandfather learn how strong was the republican spirit that stirred me. "A Carvel against the king" was all he said. But I saw that Grafton had triumphed; and to tell the truth it was no pleasant thing for me to set my face against the king for whom my father had died.

About this time Dorothy's wish was fulfilled and she went to London. Soon Lord Comyn arrived at Annapolis with news that every maroon in London, including himself, was in love with her and that the Duke of Chartersea, a great rake, appeared to lead the race. There was sadness in the pride this gave me; nevertheless, I was drawn to Lord Comyn, who was a true man.

My grandfather falling seriously ill, my uncle effected a reconciliation. Soon I realized that Grafton was plotting to cheat me of my birthright and make himself heir to Carvel Hall.

Even murder was tried. One night I was drawn into a duel with Lord Comyn on a pretext Comyn, as loath to fight as I, wounded me, but the fight only made us closer friends. Soon after Comyn had sailed for England a second attempt to kill me changed the course of my life. I was kidnapped by pirates, and only that I had the makings of a fighting sailor I should have been slain. From the pirate I was rescued by a British brigantine, captained by one John Paul, who, for the discipline he maintained, might have been a naval commander. He recognized me as a gentleman and told me how he was returning to Scotland to save good-bye to his mother, for, he said, Scotland had not treated him well. After that he proposed to go to London. I jumped at this, for was not Dorothy there? So, Paul's sad errand done, to London we went, choosing always the best coaching lanes. Paul being for playing the gentleman. At London we put on a bold front and went to the Star and Garter in Pall Mall. I at once set out to find Mr. Manners, and caught him at his door, but he feigned not to see me, whereupon Mr. Dix, Mr. Manners' agent, declared I was an impostor and has us both thrown into jail.

After three weeks' rescue came from an unexpected quarter—from Jack Comyn, who brought Dorothy to meet us at the prison gates. I was overwhelmed. Dorothy greeted me so warmly that I almost believed Comyn and Patty to have been right when they vowed that Dolly loved only me. Paul declared he was "an American, the compatriot of the beautiful Miss Manners."

I was minded to go back to America at once and reward Paul, but Comyn would not hear to this, declaring that I alone could save Dolly from Chartersea. I knew that Comyn, in telling Dorothy that I loved her, had sacrificed himself. When I met Mr. Manners he declared that he had not seen me on the former occasion, but I knew he lied. As for

Paul, when he saw how the land lay, he gave us the slip and sailed for America as captain of the Betsy bark.

In the betting books of White's and Brooks' is the record of much of my life in London, for I traveled in fast company. My friendship with Charles James Fox is a story in itself. He admired highly my defence of the Colonies, although he did not openly espouse our cause. Fox warned me that Chartersea was plotting against me, and proof came when the Duke wagered that I could not ride Baltimore's horse Pollux, for Pollux was a mankiller. Nevertheless, I rode the beast, and when Chartersea tried to follow me Pollux threw him into the Serpentine. Thus foiled, Chartersea waylaid me at Vauxhall, and I knew that Manners had helped to trap me. Comyn came to my rescue and was wounded, but I was unhurt.

Manners showed his hand when he brought me news that my grandfather was dead and Grafton was master of Carvel Hall. I struck him. Mr. Dix was quick to tell me that I was penniless, but Comyn insisted on offering his security for me.

Then back I went to Annapolis, to learn that my uncle had intercepted my letters so that my grandfather had believed me dead. Henry Swain had been successful in business and he made me factor of his new estate. There I stayed until the dreary summer of 1774, when Liberty lost a friend by the death of Mr. Swain. His last wish was that I should marry Patty, but when I asked her to marry me she saw what was in my heart and asked me whether I loved her. And for that there was no answer. But when I rode away to fight for my country she told me she would pray for me—and for Dorothy.

At Annapolis on my way north, I received a great surprise. Learning that one Jones had spoken of me, I went to see him and found that it was John Paul himself, who had an estate in Virginia and was bound for Philadelphia to lay before Congress his plan for an American navy. How he succeeded is known. I sailed with him, and was with him in many of his great sea fights, the last being that of his Bon Homme Richard against the Serapis in the North Sea. This was the hottest battle of all, and my last memory of it is the sight of a naked seaman rushing at me, pike in hand.

I awoke. Where was I? What room was this? Who was this coming to tend me? Who but Mammy Lucie, Dorothy's old nurse, to tell me that I was in London, in Mr. Manners' house? Where was Dolly? I was to see her soon, if the doctor permitted. She came! The little room was Heaven, though I was stretched on a bed of pain. Mrs. Manners answered my questions. Jones had contrived to let Dolly know I was wounded and in hospital in Holland, and Comyn had brought me to England. I learned also that my uncle had been deprived of his estate for treachery and that Carvel Hall was mine. And now I was to be smuggled out of England again. This time Fox played smuggler, and soon Dolly to be my wife. But did I not love Patty? she asked me. I told her the truth.

"Dear Richard," Dolly said, "I believe I have loved you all my life. We were married on the 15th of June, and Patty dressed the bride. Poor Patty. You have heard your mother speak of Aunt Patty, my dears.

Ere I had regained my health the war for Independence was won. "I pray God that time may soften the bitterness it caused, and heal the breach in that noble race whose motto is Freedom. That the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack may one day float together to cleanse the world of tyranny."

HUGE FORTUNE AT BOTTOM OF OCEAN MAY BE SALVAGED

Recovery of $3,000,000 Gold
Wealth of Oom Paul Kruger,

LOCATE OTHER HULKS

Capt. A. P. Gardiner Has Discovered 38 Sunken Vessels
Off South Africa

LONDON, August 22.—To recover more than $3,000,000 in gold, part of the fortune of the late Oom Paul Kruger, once president of the Transvaal, which is believed to be cemented in the hold of the bark Dorothea, sunk on Tenedos reef off the coast of Zululand, is one of the projects which may be revived as a result of improvement in the science of salvaging sunken ships.

The Dorothea is named among the list of wrecks of eight treasure ships located off the African coast which are regarded by one leading expert as most likely for salvage.

It is believed that Kruger's fortune still lies in the bottom of the Dorothea among the jagged rocks of Tenedos reef. Once he was credited with a fortune of $3,750,000. Some years ago a syndicate was organized to attempt its recovery but a government steamer, the Alfred Noble, failed to salvage it.

Ships are Located
Capt. A. P. Gardiner has located 38 hulls of sunken vessels off the coast of South Africa and believes that one-quarter of them may be redeemed. Some of them are more than 100 years old. Eight of the ships selected as susceptible of salvage, with their location and value of contents are given as follows:

The Grosvenor, on the Pendoland coast, $8,750,000; Ariston, Marcus bay, $4,000,000; Birkenhead, Birkenhead reef, $3,900,000; Atlas, East coast, $3,500,000; Dorothea, Tenedos reef, $3,250,000; Thunderbolt, Thunderbolt reef, $2,750,000; Abercrombie, Black rock, $9,000,000; Merestein, Juton Island, $700,000.

Lure Treasure Hunters
A second list of ships luring treasure hunters to the African coast includes seven wrecked in 1802, among them being H. M. S. Candos with $200,000 in gold coin, and the troop ship Addison with $100,000. Others carried copper, a hold full of ivory or silver ingots.

Ten other vessels lost between 1737 and 1893 have been located along the African sands with the following wealth. Five thousand bars of silver and copper; 30 boxes

SHERIFF ON TRAIL OF YOUNG ROBBERS

VAN WERT, Aug 22—Sheriff Sells has unearthed clues to the identity of the two young men who are believed to be the responsible for the series of robberies last Sunday, at dwellings in Tully, Pleasant and York townships. A bicycle and kodak were sold by one of the pair to a foreigner named Saboid, who lives on the Grimm place, one mile east of town, for seven dollars, and the other member of the pair sold a bicycle to Henry Fultz, in the same neighborhood, for eight dollars. A little girl in the Saboid family developed a film found in the kodak and produced individual pictures of the young fellows, snapped at the side of one of the big cannons on the lawn at the Court House.

Mr. Bolton, formerly manager of the equity elevator at Jonestown, York township, met with serious if not fatal injuries in an automobile accident while racing on the road in the vicinity of his home in York township with his brother-in-law, Mr. Rauch. Mr. Bolton was driving on the mud road, running at high speed, when his car struck a depression and turned completely over and when stopped was headed in the opposite direction, the wheel was crushed off and the top was mashed. Mr. Bolton sustained no broken bones but he was rendered unconscious for several hours and it is feared that he was internally injured.

Constable S. M. Baxter has gone to Jackson, Michigan, to claim Frank Darling, who is charged with stealing $15 from his daughter, Mrs. Earl Miller, of Allingham street. NAMES OF MEN TURN INTO WORDS

Activities of Great Personages Gives Language
More Idea Conveyors

The study of language shows how the names of men often become a part of common speech. For instance, our word "dunce" comes from Duns Scotus, one of the most illustrious teachers of the Franciscan order. In his time theological controversy waged loud and fierce. His opponents, on hearing an argument from one of his school, would say contemptuously, "Oh, you are a Duns man" or more briefly, "You are a Duns." Finally, the word came to mean a dull, ignorant person—and to be spelled "dunce." We get "nicotine," the alkaloid derived from tobacco, from Nicot, a famous French physician, who introduced the tobacco plant into Europe.

It is not the province of a dictionary to go into the origin and history of words, but The New Universities Dictionary contains the definition of such words as have passed into our common speech. Besides this, in its appendix it contains a real treasury of facts in every-day life. Our coupon offer, published in The Lima Times, explains our good fortune in being able to present what is an encyclopedia and a dictionary combined and in convenient form for daily use. We congratulate both our readers and ourselves on this good stroke of fortune.

GERMANY'S COUNTER CLAIMS

"Old man Green's house was over-run with rats, and he hired a rat-catcher for two dollars to clean the rodents out."

"The rat-catcher worked like a Trojan. He killed a whole packing case of rats. Then he said to the old man:

"There you are, Mr. Green. My job is done. You'll have no more trouble with rats, and you needn't bother about these dead ones, either. I'll cart 'em away myself."

"How much do I owe you, friend?" said old man Green.

"Two simoleons, like what was agreed on, boss."

"Then the old man pointed at the huge packing case and said in a protesting voice:

"Don't I get nothing for all them rats?" —Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies

Every true mother realizes the fact that her baby's health depends upon her own, that the very vitality of her child is influenced by her own physical condition. How important it is, therefore, to guard against any derangement of the female organs, which induce general weakness, nervousness, constant fatigue and utter inability to properly care for her child. Please remember, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and strength to thousands of such mothers.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when 7 months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. FRANK MONTMAN, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during and after maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LIMA CHAUTAUQUA OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY

The juvenile activities of the Cort-Alber chautauqua commenced at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning. Nearly 150 junior chautauquians became acquainted with Miss L. Amy Riddle, the junior worker, after which junior town was organized. As this was American day, appropriate patriotic stories were a feature of the morning. Plans were made for the children's circus parade on the fifth day. The kiddies this morning manifested an enthusiastic spirit and look forward to having a week of fun together.

The regular chautauqua was opened this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by an address by Superintendent Alber. The Old Home Singers gave a novel and entertaining concert, which they will again give at the evening performance tonight. Dr. James L. Gordon, of Washington, D. C., is the speaker for this evening. His subject will be "Grace, Grit and Greenbacks."

The junior performance commences every morning at 9:30 o'clock; the afternoon performance at 2:30 o'clock, and the evening performance at 8:00 o'clock.

ARREST PACKING SALESMAN

NEWARK, Aug. 22.—In affidavits filed by E. F. Van Dyke, a state food inspector, Edward Lananhan, salesman for the Columbus Packing company is charged with selling 250 pounds of pork to Newark and Pataskala dealers which had been in storage longer than six months. The meat was two to five weeks overdue, the affidavits allege. Lananhan will appear for hearing before Magistrate Jones Monday.

PRESIDENT URGED TO PROTECT U. S. FOREIGN TRADE

WASHINGTON, August 22.—President Wilson has been urged in a letter from Senator Owen, Oklahoma, ranking democrat member of the senate banking committee, to take steps to protect the foreign commerce of the United States and bring about an extension of credits to cover European purchases. The letter as inserted in the record also proposed that means be provided to pass upon the validity of European securities offered for sale in the United States.

"Unless immediate steps are taken," Senator Owen said, "to accommodate these results, I fear serious business reaction will take place in the United States by cutting off a large part of our foreign market or of our surplus products, throwing these products back on the United States, and casting a very serious recreation of prices due to overproduction. I agree that prices should come down, but the reduction should be by the elimination of excess profits artificially placed upon goods, and they should not come down by cutting down the wages paid to labor. There is a natural increase in prices in the United States due to the expansion of our currency by excess gold imports and by the development of federal reserve notes against commodities which have taken the place of gold as a basis of note issue."

INTERURBAN STRIKE BOOSTS THE PENNSY

DELPHOS, Aug. 22.—The Pennsylvania railroad is enjoying an unusual local passenger business from the Delphos office as well as from other offices along the line between Lima and Ft. Wayne, as a result of the strike on the Ohio Electric. The Pennsylvania station is now a very busy place and each train that stops at the station carries quite a number of passengers to and from Delphos.

Employees of the D. T. & C. railroad are now engaged in tearing up the "Y" in the Water Works park, and the company is arranging to put in a turn table at their yards south of the city. The "Y" in the Water Works park was built several months ago to be used in turning the engines here but it was found that it was too short and the curves too sharp.

Eight orders for government were received by Postmaster A. J. Shenk, at the Delphos post office Wednesday the total purchasers for the day amounting to $67.70. This is a big increase as compared with the sales of previous day, when only three orders were placed.

STARS WORN ILLEGALLY

WASHINGTON, August 22.—The attention of the war department was called today to the fact that discharged soldiers are wearing silver stars on victory ribbons in some cases under conditions not justified by the regulations. An order was issued pointing out that these stars must not be worn unless the soldier had been cited in orders from his headquarters for gallantry in action and that if other decorations have been awarded for the same decoration, the star could not be legally used.

KOREANS GRANTED SELF-GOVERNMENT BY JAP EMPEROR

Military Control of Country Is Abandoned and Other Popular Reforms

GENDARMIE RECALLED

Koreans Given Same Privileges and Legal Rights As Japanese People

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The Japanese military government in Korea will be succeeded by a civil one in accordance with an imperial decree issued at Tokio and received in Washington. Local self-government and other popular reforms looking to home rule are officially promulgated and the military gendarmie, which has been under severe criticism for some time will be replaced by a civilian police force under civilian control.

A system of village and town municipal government based on popular suffrage also is to be undertaken. Possibly the most important of all, from the Korean point of view, the rescript by the emperor of Japan provides that Koreans shall have the same privileges and legal rights as Japanese.

Heretofore Japanese have been a privileged class. Baron Saito, former minister of state and one of the best known of Japanese statesmen, becomes governor general, succeeding Marshal Hasegawa. Mr. Midzuno, former minister of interior in the late Kato cabinet, succeeds Director General Yamagata in administration. Orders are outlined.

The executive orders carrying into effect the emperor's rescript were issued yesterday in Tokio, but have not been received here. They are outlined, however, in a statement Premier Hara cabled to this country. Premier Hara, in his statement, said:

"The government now is decided to carry out various reforms in Korea and it is their fixed determination to forward the progress of the country in order that all differences between Korea and Japan proper, in matters of education, industry and of the civil service finally may be obliterated altogether. To sum up, it may be stated that Korea and Japan proper form equally integral parts of the same empire. No distinction in principle should be made between them and that it is the ultimate purpose of the Japanese government in due course to treat Korea as in all respects on the same footing with Japan proper."

footing with Japan proper. "In this wise may be attained the only true object of the annexation and on these lines may be expected the permanent advance and enlightenment of the Koreans."

LABOR PARTY TO MEET.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—The national convention of the newly formed national labor party will be held in Chicago on Saturday, November 22, with approximately 1500 to 2000 delegates representing several thousand labor organizations from all parts of the country in attendance. Max Hayes, chairman of the executive committee of the new party announced here today.

QUIET AT HAMMOND.

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 22.—Presence of ten companies of Indiana state troops apparently has quelled the riotous spirit of the 1500 striking employees of the Standard Steel Car company. There has been no violence or disorder of any kind since the arrival of the soldiers yesterday morning.

New York Semi-Pro
Team

TORONTO, Ont., August 22.—President McCaffery of the Toronto baseball club, who returned home yesterday after being on the eastern trip with the Leafs, stated that the Toronto team were on a batting slump and were liable to break loose any day now.

While in the East President McCaffery saw Jeff Tesreau, the former Toronto pitcher, and tried to get him to sign a contract, but Jeff had tied himself up with a semi-pro team in New York. If waivers can be secured the Toronto club will have two new players here shortly.

The Store of Standard ValuesDAUBERT IN SHAPE MAKES RED LEGS FACTOR IN RACE*JAKE DAUBERT, I. B.

Jake Daubert's legs, or rather Jake's right leg, is an important factor in the National league pennant race this year.

Were Jack troubled with his right leg this summer the way it has bothered him annually the last few years, the chances are the Reds would not be out in front.

And if Jake's trouble returns it will affect the Reds' chances to capture the bunting.

Jake, however, does not anticipate any trouble from that source, and is taking all kinds of chances on the bases, which he could not afford to do the last three years.

Five years ago Jake split a muscle in his right thigh. It put him on the bench for some time, and continued to give him trouble every year thereafter until this season.

Jake ascribes his lack of leg trouble this year to the fact that he danced a good deal last winter and spring, that he worked hard following the 1918 baseball season and that he is not wearing any bandage over the injured spot this summer.

"After I was hurt," said Jake, "Wilbert Robinson advised me to wear an elastic bandage around the leg, and I did this each year. I now am convinced the bandage did more harm than good, for this spring I decided to do without the bandage and my leg now feels stronger than at any time since I hurt it."

"I really think the dancing gave the injured muscle the exercise it needed."

"Then the work I did last fall may have helped some. I have a coal washery on the river at Schuykill, Haven, Pa., near my home town. We reclaim coal for use under boilers from the river by means of washing out the gravel. It requires lots of hard work, and when the season ended last year I pitched in and worked like a beaver at this business until cold weather stopped us."

If Jake's leg has really mended the veteran first sacker will be good for several more years in fast company.

Poor old Braves Those bean eaters imagined they had that old game hewed up yesterday

Immediately following the game yesterday, the Moran club should have sung: "We'll rally 'round the flag."

Those educated wond'rs sure handed it to Mr. Sallee, however, with singles, triple and a home run.

We would like to print a statement by Jawn McGraw, but it would only be censored by faithful copy reader.

Smith the Sage of Hawk Creek: "The three sweetest words in the English language are: 'Enclosed find check.'"

The Pirates got 12 safeties yesterday, and only made two runs. They should have been beaten. They were.

What is probably a world's record in harness races was established at Cranwood track yesterday when eight of a total of 13 starters won heats.

Miss Jemima met defeat yesterday in the Schuperville stakes.

A horse with a very inappropriate name, Homely, beat her.

Poor old Muggsy now has something else to curse about. Douglas has deserted him.

We can't blame Doug.

McGraw will now probably cause an investigation of the Redlegs.

JIMMY RING IS ASSET TO PITCHING STAFF OF MORAN'SRedleg Leader Now Has Quintette of Slingers That He May Safely Depend Upon

BROOKLYN, N. Y., August 22.—"There's only one thing for you to worry about now," said Eddie Konetchy, who has surely seen a world of big league ball playing. "That's whether your pitchers will hold out under strain. Everybody, for the home of the game, will be doing his very best to beat you from now on, but your infield won't crack and your outfield looks safe, while you have the substitutes for any sudden vacancies. It's all up to the pitchers—if they hold fast, you're in already."

It doesn't seem as if the pitchers would break down. All through the long campaign Manager Pat strove and prayed for just one blessing—four pitchers who could take turn and turn without breaking, and it seemed, week after week, as if he couldn't make the rifle. Now, he has the four, and the strength of the quartette, also the consequent advance of the Reds, can be attributed to just one man—Jimmy Ring.

With Eller Heather, Sallee and Ring, Pat need fret no longer. Ring's arrival at the peak of pitching power solved all the problems, ended all the worries. For many weeks Ring looked like a lost—couldn't hold out, couldn't make good. But Pat had full confidence in him, and now look at him go!

The fifth pitcher the man who must be counted on for the double headers, is also there—Ras Fisher. He's a perfected, polished, almost matchless staff at last.

And if the club could reach the top with a scrambled outfield and with the pitchers shaky as reeds in the wind, what's to stop it now with a full team, and a clockwork set of pitchers?

"Those fellows won't break," said Manager Wilbert Robinson, of the Robins, after looking over the Red flingers. "Ring, who was a skinny kid two years ago, is a bull for size, strength and endurance now. That man Eller could pitch every other day and it would do him good. Heather has changed from a wild youngster to a great pitcher just because his mind is on his work. Old Sallee is better than ever, provided you don't use him too often. I never saw Fisher in such form in all these years. Those fellows have the strength as well as the skill and they won't flop on you now."

TULSA PROVES WORLD BEATER

LEXINGTON, Ky., August 22.—Tulsa is the name of a much-discussed two-year old at the Kentucky jockey club track. Tulsa never had a bruise on until June 1, when he was taken up and put in training by his owner, H. Webb, of Oklahoma, and he was shown the work-watcher, a quarter in 0.21 and a half in 0.51. Tulsa is by Ivan the Terrible, out of Loret, daughter of Bonnie Joe and 12th N. Webb faced Loret successfully for five years and she now is at Beaumont Farm with a full foal at heel by Jack Atkin. Tulsa is eligible for the Breeders' Futurity.

SMALL CARD TODAY
AT POUGHKEEPSIEFive Races With Aggregate
Purse of $6,000—"Pop"
Geers Took Lion's Share

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Five races were on today's grand circuit card, the National for 2-year-old trotters; the 2:20 pace for half mile track; the Chamber of Commerce 2:09 trot, the Nelson House free for all pace under the 2:08 pace. The prizes aggregate $6,000.

Edward Geers took the lion's share of honors at the second day of the grand circuit here, driving four of the five winners on the program, and in one of his victories piloting Goldie Todd to a clean cut, straight heat triumph over Frank Dewey and Sanarado. The veteran reinsman accounted for "the vassar" 2:10 pace, a $3,000 purse. The Liberty 2:16 trot for three year olds, which he won with Molly Knight and two breeders club events. The two year old and three year old trots.

Dudette and Wika Wika were the winners.

Walter R. Cox drove McGregor the Great to a straight heat win in the other $3,000 event, "The Poughkeepsie" with Hollywood Naomi second and Joseph Guy third. Marjondale the Murphy entry behaved badly and was never a contender.

For Dysentery and Flux, R. E. Rowley, of Dixie Brooks Co., Ga., has used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for years and says he finds it to be one of the best family medicines of his knowledge, that it is the best medicine he ever saw for dysentery, flux and kindred diseases. When used for dysentery castor oil must also be given.

GRAIN MARKET IS SHOWING STRENGTH

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Less bearish sentiment was reflected today in the grain market, prices being moderately higher at the close and increasing somewhat in the other trading of distant months showing relatively greater strength. Opening figures were unchanged to 1/4 higher with September 1/4 to 1/2 higher, and December 1/4 to 1/2 higher. Oats moved up with corn, commission houses being buyers. Fluctuations were in more narrow limits than in the major grain but a strong undertone was observed in the early trading. Opening prices were quarter cent to half cent higher all deliveries showing in the advance with September 7/8 and December 7/8 to 7/16.

COAL PROFITEERS MUST TAKE NEXT TURN ON GRIDDLE

Attorney Gen. Palmer May Recommend Same Action As in Food Cases

LOOK INTO SHORTAGE

If Condition Found Serious, Agents Will Try to Ascertain Causes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The coal profiteers must take their turn on the grid dle next.

Attorney General Palmer is looking into the coal situation. If he finds conditions as unsatisfactory as they are alleged to be he will recommend some such action as has been taken by the federal government with respect to foodstuffs.

The federal fuel administration is no longer active but the machinery it used during the war is still within reach of the federal government and could be used in connection with the coal situation just as the food administration organization is being used in connection with the food situation.

In the estimation of Attorney General Palmer it is of the highest importance that the people everywhere shall be kept warm next winter.

The attorney general foresees that a coal shortage when the people everywhere are complaining of high food prices, would bring the federal government face to face with a very serious problem. So it is the attorney general's judgment that the situation should be dealt with immediately.

The activities of the department of justice are along the line of getting the facts with respect to both anthracite and bituminous coal. If there is danger of a shortage of either kind the agents of the department of justice will try to ascertain the cause.

The federal fuel administration was not a success and a great many persons would regret to see it called back to service. Most persons who had experience with this government activity during the war will always maintain that the coal situation would have been more favorable if the government had kept hands off. But if it shall become necessary for the government to lay hands on the present situation the fuel administration undoubtedly will be used.

The mere mention of the possibility of calling the fuel administration back to life seems to have had a good effect on some of the mining companies.

THOUSAND MEN THROWN OUT OF WORK

MOULDERS STRIKE AFFECTS LEADING LIMA INDUSTRIES

Several Plants Will Close Until Dispute Comes to a Settlement

DEMANDS OF UNION

Employers Expect a Long Siege But Are Not Pushed by Orders

Over one thousand men will be thrown out of employment by the strike of the local moulders which was affected this morning, according to information gathered from officials of various industries in this city. The Lima Locomotive Works is probably the hardest hit of any plant. Approximately 600 men will be without work as a result of the strike in that shop, an official of the Locomotive works stated.

The Chalmers Machine company will close down that part of its plant as well as the majority of the machine shop, it was said. This will affect approximately 150 men in this plant. Other plants affected are The Buckeye Machine company, Lima Brass Foundry, and it is understood the East Iron and Machine company. However, officials of that plant could not be reached this morning and subordinates refused to talk.

Officials of the plant declare they will close their shops until a settlement of some kind is effected and effort will be made to operate. In the majority of instances there are no orders which are pushing the plants and owing to this they are in a position to close officials state.

Officials affected. It was understood, the strike will severely impair service of the Ohio Steel Foundry. Officials of that concern, however, deny this report, and state they are having little or no trouble with their men. They further said no trouble is anticipated but it does seem the plant like the others will be closed.

The moulders following a meeting last night in the Fish hall, issued an ultimatum to their respective employers, it is understood and they are expecting their answer this morning. When it was not forthcoming they walked out.

The moulders it is understood, are asking for a flat scale of $6 per eight hour day. This scale was presented to heads of the various industries and they were expected to grant the request not later than last night.

Vote Near Unanimous. When the meeting opened there were no complainers and strike vote was taken. The members voted near unanimity for the walkout it is understood.

Ohio Steel Castings company's men have been out since last Monday, and this plant has not endeavored to operate its moulding rooms since that date.

In other steps will be taken to effect a quick settlement is not doubt known. Indications are the new blow out long drawn out affair as the officials of the various plants pointed out is not under the present circumstances afford to grant the demands of the men.

Whether or not this strike will curtail the plans of the Lima Locomotive Works' project relative to the proposed expansion of the plant, could not be stated by officials of the company this morning.

Statement from Chalmers. On Monday August 18, our moulders and coremakers submitted demands which if conceded, would decrease our hourly rate pay about 12 1/2 per cent. On account of all our work being taken at a fixed price we could not grant the increase. These men "walked out" this morning.

"Because of their action we are closing down all departments tonight for the reason that all departments are dependent upon foundry production for material."

"We will remain closed until present conditions of unrest become so mitigated as to warrant re-opening."

HELD AS VAGRANTS. J. Harris, 40, Marion, Ind., and Charles Morgan, 46, Ft. Wayne, were arrested here last night and lodged in city prison on a charge of vagrancy.

They were arraigned in police court this morning and after pleading guilty were fined $5 each. The fines were suspended on condition that they get out of the city.

Teachers Close Institute Today

One of the important resolutions made by the resolution committee of the Allen county Teachers Institute and presented at the closing session Friday afternoon at Memorial hall, was that all county school teachers be paid a minimum salary of $100 a month. The salary resolution was urged yesterday by Superintendent Wilson Haskins, Canton, one of the institute speakers, who stated that the law for $100 as the minimum salary for teachers would be presented at the next session of the state legislature.

The majority of the teachers only earn $8 or nine months during the school term and even with the minimum salary would only make about $800 for the entire year. The annual election of officers was held later in the afternoon.

SUBURBAN DAY IS SUCCESS DESPITE TRACTION STRIKE

Dollar Day, August 27 Will Be Next Attraction by Lima Merchants

Although the last of the Suburban Days was handicapped a bit by the strike on the interurbans, merchants generally were well pleased with the response; and delighted with the innovation as a whole. This is the consensus of opinion on the eve of the prize event of the summer—the combined Dollar and Suburban Trade days into one—next Wednesday, the 27th. Limaites have a vivid recollection of the great success of the earlier Dollar Day sales, and now that the suburban trading district is to be included in this final and most famous one of them all, the shopping district will present something of the appearance of a Mardi Gras or Festival next Wednesday.

Every merchant member of the Suburban Trade Day association has pledged his shop to an exhibit of unparalleled bargains on the big dollar table. Things never before placed on sale at anything like that made figure Yeung with each other to create the biggest surprise, merchants are planning the most startling exhibits of their Lima business career. It is the summing up of summer. Every business house will have articles and objects that good business sense warns them to sacrifice, not only to make room for the new fall goods and displays, but to create the necessary August turnover into money. And then these merchants are apprehensive of what the government, state and city precautions against the food and other speculators are going to do to prices.

They will proceed on the assumption that "a bird in the hand is worth several in the bush."

Better have a modest cash return than little or none at all, a thought that comes to the shopkeeper when he reads what strange things are turning up with some of his fellows as presumptive criminals. For it is well known that the public on the merchandising question is a good deal like a crowd after a rumored horsebreaker or horse thief. It gathers weight and adds fancied misdeemeanors every minute, although the man may be absolutely innocent.

TWC BOYS HELD FOR STEALING CYCLES

Donald and Earl Lucas brothers aged 13 and 11, respectively, were arrested last night by juvenile officer on a charge of stealing bicycles, and are being held at the Detention Home pending their hearings which will be had Tuesday.

While the lads were spending the night at the home, parents became worried over their continued absence and notified police of the boys' disappearance. They have been missing from their home since yesterday morning, according to the report. The youngsters reside with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lucas, 1171 West Wayne street.

CITY MAY DEMAND USE OF THE O. E. ELECTRIC SYSTEM

Solicitor Light Rules That Municipality Can Take Lighting

IS UP TO THE COUNCIL

Manager Dugan Ready to Act If Adequate Protection Is Given

City officials are today seriously considering the advisability of forcing the Ohio Electric Railway company to either furnish lights for the city streets, or to turn their equipment over to local authorities, who will endeavor to operate the lights with current furnished by the pumping station, is a statement given out this afternoon by Mayor Simpson.

The mayor was in conference with City Solicitor Light nearly the entire afternoon yesterday in an effort to arrive at some definite conclusion whereby the city may have its streets properly lighted. The question of whether or not the lines of the company may be temporarily confiscated for that purpose was brought to the attention of the city solicitor, who ruled that under the present emergency, it is his opinion local officials have that authority.

The matter today, however, stands and developments between now and Monday night will be watched for, the mayor said. If some move has not been made by the company to properly light the streets the matter will be put before council, Simpson continued.

To Use Pumping Station.

It is the mayor's belief, the project can be manipulated much better if service is cut into the pumping station and current for the street lighting system furnished from that point. In this manner, he cites, there will be no one employed to take the place of the strikers. The city alone will be handling the matter, he said.

J. B. Dugan, resident manager of the company this morning stated his corporation will properly light the streets if given adequate protection by the city. That proposition, it is understood, has been put up to officials, and they are also seriously considering the advisability of placing mounted policemen on beats after dark, in order to see that no lights are molested, in case the Ohio Electric company does furnish the necessary lights.

Break at Newark.

According to advices from Columbus, which arrived here this morning, it is very likely trainmen on the southern division of the Ohio Electric railroad will soon return to their respective jobs. In this division there are only five, so termed, miscellaneous employees, and it is claimed the trainmen are considering the justification of their remaining out when only such a small number of men is concerned.

It is the opinion of officials of the Capital City, that should such a move be made, it will come near to breaking the strike. Local officials and striking employees, however, refuse to discuss the matter.

It was ruled last night that the mayor of Newark, who threatens to make the company either run cars or take up its tracks, has absolutely no power to make good his threats. Before he may order the company to take up their tracks, he must have the consent of the state utilities commission, according to the ruling.

Employees of the railway company are today holding a picnic at McCullough's park, which is being attended by quite a few of the trainmen. Whether or not the strike will be discussed later in the day is not definitely known, but it is presumed the matter will not be mentioned, as it may have a tendency to dampen the spirit of the participants.

FARMERS MARKET TO OPEN ON SQUARE EARLY SATURDAY

Everything here is set for the first real step toward breaking the high cost of living in Lima, which will occur Saturday morning when a score or more farmers will bring produce to the city and offer it for sale to the public on the southeast corner of the Public Square. The markets will be held once a week, officials state, preferably on Saturday.

If this proves a great success, it is understood, other farmers will be asked to vend their products in the outlying fire houses. The mayor this morning, cited, these fire stations were built for the purpose of housing horse drawn equipment, and after motor apparatus was put into them it leaves considerable room. This space, he says, may be utilized for market purposes.

Prosecutor Cable this morning, stated, a notable drop in foodstuffs in Lima, and it is opinion the proposed market is responsible.

Farmers have been instructed to sell their products to the public at the same price paid them by dealers. Consequently, it is the opinion of city officials, many farmers will be on the ground tomorrow morning. The market opens promptly at 7 o'clock and remains open as long as there are any goods for sale.

FINED FOR SPEEDING

In police court, this morning, the first man to be arraigned under the new speed law was presented and after pleading guilty was given a fine of $25. He was admonished by Judge Botkin not to come up again, or he would have to pay a $25 fine. The speeder was David Harok, 18, 650 North Union street.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Judge Klinger last night granted a decree of divorce to Minnie Marie Daniels from Irel LeRoy Daniels on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The case was not contested. She will receive $500 alimony at the rate of $5 per week.

SALE IS CONFIRMED

Judge Klinger today confirmed the sale of property on Wayne street, owned by the Lima Rescue Home to Shelby Marnough for a consideration of $5,500. The money derived from the sale will be used to buy furnishings for the new home, it is understood.

What Is A Bargain?

A bargain is where a purchaser obtains an article at a lower price than the same article is usually sold for, or below its market value.

Now we seldom use the word bargain, because it has been abused so, but you will find that the definition applies to every thing we sell. Note the prices quoted below you can call them bargains if you wish but we call them a cinch for you.
